Dear friends in Christ,

After John initially objects to Jesus’ request for baptism, Jesus says to John, Allow it now, for thus it is fitting for us to fulfill all righteousness. Jesus’ words lead us to ponder what exactly is being fulfilled in Christ whom we meet in the Scriptures and in our Mass today.

Our first reading says that Christ was called for the victory of justice, to be a light for the nations, to open the eyes of the blind, to bring out prisoners from confinement, and from the dungeon, those who live in darkness. These are promises not only for those who came before us in salvation history, but for each of the baptized.

Our Gospel invites us to consider how the Lord brings these promises to fulfillment in our lives. Where we fail to see as God sees, God comes to give us new vision. By the gift of his Spirit, he brings new insight and hope. When we are prisoners, stuck in sin and ways of living that hold us back from the fullness of life God desires for us, Christ gives us his mercy and the grace to walk again in freedom. When we find ourselves in darkness, God comes with his Spirit to bring comfort and light.

Jesus brought his healing to us through his baptism. We might wonder why Jesus was baptized, since it was a symbol of repentance and he was without sin. But our tradition tells us that as Jesus enters the river Jordan and the Spirit is poured out upon him, water itself is forever changed. Jesus, through his baptism, makes water capable of being the instrument of our baptism. What is more, Jesus unites himself to all who would ever be plunged in the waters of baptism. And so, in the waters of our baptism, Jesus’ presence and power are made available to and poured out upon each of us.

Having received the gift of Jesus’ life within us in baptism, we, too, are empowered. We have been given all we need to participate in Christ’s work to bring light, life, and freedom to all whom we meet. As we approach this sacred table, let us bring all our needs to his loving power. In the Eucharist, Jesus, fulfills these promises to us. May our hearts be opened to receive his grace and blessing poured out on us today. Amen.
