Dear friends in Christ,

Today’s first reading speaks about a darkness that covers the earth, and thick clouds that cover the peoples. The prophet Isaiah is speaking to God’s people who had been overrun by their enemies, with survivors taken away into captivity and exile in Babylon. Certainly, they were feeling the weight and hopelessness of their collective situation. In our own time, we, too, can see circumstances in our community and our world that leave us feeling hopeless, as though a dark cloud were over us.

And yet, into these moments of darkness the prophet Isaiah speaks a word of hope. The glory of the Lord will once again shine on Jerusalem. This city that had been razed to the ground and plundered of all its riches will be rebuilt and made even more glorious than it was before. Isaiah describes the coming glory of Jerusalem, saying that this once devastated city will receive tribute from the ends of the earth and will be filled with the wealth of nations. Our God, who made all things from nothing, can restore all things, making them even better than they were before.

Today we celebrate the Solemnity of the Epiphany of the Lord. The word epiphany comes from a Greek word meaning “manifestation.” Today’s feast reminds us that in the birth of Christ, we have a manifestation that God’s divine restoration plan is under way. Why do we have kings from distant lands coming to offer precious gifts to the Christ child in the manger? This is what Isaiah told us would accompany the time of Jerusalem’s restoration: The riches of the sea shall be emptied out before you, the wealth of nations shall be brought to you . . . all from Sheba shall come bearing gold and frankincense. In other words, the Gospel is telling us that the time of our restoration has come.

Of course, we know that God’s ultimate plan was not to rebuild a city. Rather, what God is doing is rebuilding his people from the inside out. By taking on our humanity in the Incarnation, Jesus draws us to share in his divinity. What we lost in the fall – grace, our likeness to God – is infinitely restored in Christ’s coming among us. After the Incarnation, we don’t just walk in relationship with God, we are taken up into the very life of God. Emmanuel, our God, comes to dwell with us and within us.

Today, let us give thanks to God for the hope we have – even in the midst of whatever current darkness we face because the time of God’s restoration has come through the birth of Christ. As we wait for its ultimate realization in the fullness of his kingdom, we are fed by Christ and drawn more deeply into his divine life, rebuilding us into a people that will shine with his glory. Amen.

“Do not fear what may happen tomorrow. The same loving Father who cares for you today will care for you tomorrow and every day. Either He will shield you from suffering, or He will give you unfailing strength to bear it. Be at peace, then, and put aside all anxious thoughts and imaginings.”
-Saint Francis de Sales
